Skills & Principles of Contemporary Psychotherapy Course 2022

TERMS USED

We use the date on which we email you confirmation of your place on the Skills & Principles course as being the date of 'confirmation of enrolment'. We use the terms 'we / our / us' to refer to BeeLeaf Institute for Contemporary Psychotherapy, staff and its Contractors and Volunteers. We use the term 'you' to refer to the Customer/Course Applicant/Candidate/Student/Trainee. We use the term 'course' to refer to the BeeLeaf Certificate in Skills & Principles of Contemporary Psychotherapy unit of training.

COVID-19

We understand that it may not be possible for someone to attend an in-person training weekend because of Covid-19. Under these special circumstances there will be the option to participate live by Zoom and we will do our best to make sure those attending online have the opportunity to participate as fully as possible and engage with a high quality live interactive experience online.

If training cannot be delivered in-person by us on any of the dates due to Covid-19 it will be moved online only for the necessary period of time.

In any of the circumstances above, if a Trainee still cannot attend the live online training alternative offered this will be recorded as an absence and the attendance criteria for certification will still apply.

If, for reasons due to Covid-19, it becomes necessary for a Trainee to make individual use of the online alternative to in-person training for more than four days of the course, BeeLeaf and the Trainee will discuss the impact of this on their learning and on the group. A context sensitive consideration will be given as to whether it is better for the Trainee to defer training until their in-person participation can be restored.

Irregular attendance

In order for you to receive your certificate, attendance is essential for a minimum of 20 of the 22 days of the training. may be made for you to defer to the following year. This is at the discretion of BeeLeaf and will incur a £600 charge.

Failure to Meet Assessment Criteria

If during the course our ongoing assessment indicates that you require improvement at a skills, comprehension or personal development level, we will give you specific feedback and let you know what is required for you to evidence satisfactory achievement for final assessment and Certification. The following processes will be applied.

1. You will be required to engage in discussion with a BeeLeaf Trainer/Tutor regarding the areas of concern.
2. If further discussion of the concern is required for you to be able to show improvement you will be offered a tutorial with a BeeLeaf Trainer/Tutor.
3. During the tutorial best solutions regarding areas of concern will be discussed and may include one or more of the following recommendations by the BeeLeaf Trainer /Tutor, according to your area of challenge:

(a) You may be asked to re-submit written assignments after discussion and guidance from a Trainer/Tutor/Assistant.

(b) You may be asked to demonstrate satisfactory improvement during practical learning activities on the training.

(c) You may be asked to attend to personal development issues in a suitably supportive and professional environment, such as one-to-one therapy with a qualified Therapist of your choosing. You are liable for any fees that may be incurred for such services.

(d) Arrangements may be made for you to return the following year at our discretion.

You must demonstrate a willingness to participate in the above processes and to positively respond to feedback. If you do not demonstrate a willingness to participate in the above processes and/or if realistic improvement in response to feedback is not demonstrated within a reasonable timeframe, you may be assessed as being unsuitable to complete the training, in which case your place on the course will be cancelled in accordance with Procedures contained within the relevant Codes of Ethics, Conduct and Procedures. Under these circumstances fees will only be charged for those weekends of training on this unit that have taken place to date and you may at our discretion be given a letter of Attendance.
